NEW Pre-Marital Counseling DVD

Pre-Marital Counseling is for couples who will soon marry and who want help to create a happy, durable, Christian home. The goal is to examine and decide critical issues at this stage--before the rice is thrown--so the first year will be happier. Preparation today is better than conflict resolution tomorrow.

Throughout this DVD, the couple will be asked to stop the video and take time (perhaps as much as a couple of days) to think through and decide specific issues and form solid values with your fiancé on which the marriage will stand for the rest of your lives. A happy, Christian home requires key decisions and hard work and is worth the effort. #10-3612

Pleasing God in Worship

Even as American civilization has been undergoing massive alterations in its commitment to traditional American values and its Christian underpinnings, so churches of Christ have been experiencing sweeping change, especially in church worship. Indeed, Christendom as a whole has imbibed the basic doctrines of the Christian religion. To make religion more palatable to an entertainment-oriented culture, many churches have implemented "contemporary" worship ("inner-tainment"). In this seminar Dave Miller, Ph.D., explains the issues and applies biblical principles to arrive at solutions.
